FABBS is a coalition of scientific societies that share an interest in advancing the sciences of mind, brain, and behavior. We communicate the importance and contributions of basic and applied research in these areas to policy makers and the public.

Science Policy & Advocacy

FABBS represents the interests of its scientific societies by:
- Educating Congress and federal agencies about the importance of research in the sciences of mind, brain, and behavior
- Advocating for legislation and policy that enhance training and research in these sciences
- Encouraging the sound use of science in the creation of public policy
- Providing sources of expertise to Congress and federal agencies

Public Interest Education

FABBS advances the public’s understanding of the sciences of mind, brain, and behavior by:
- Publishing “Research to Policy” articles for the public
- Hosting Science Cafés for public audiences
- Participating in festivals aimed at exciting children about the sciences of mind, brain, and behavior

Honoring Our Scientists
